EYELIDS OF THE AWAKENING TERPSI-OHORE REDDENING WITH LIGHT.

Debutants Who Will Reign This Winter-Beauties of Several Seasons-Marriages,

Auturen leaves are falling softly, lingeringly, carpeting sombre streets and gloomy alleywars with Titian-like color-masses; from elm and maple they sink to shingled and slated roofs, covering the green mosses of summer that cling to gutter and gable. The October sun, staking to rest behind the red hills of Henrico, gilds the west-ward windows and tinges tower and chimney in hues uncommon and beautiful, and the rare old town of Richmond-on-the James sleeps in the haze of the Indian

In the Square the great bronze locusts are lazily droning the dirge for the dead summer and the gray squirrels are chattering in the tops of the old trees, and while animal and insect chatter and drone strong man and fall women square over pagemen and fair women saunter over pave ment and lawn.

THE COMING OF BEAUTY. THE COMING OF REAUTY.

The beautiful women, whose fame will be ever interwoved with the sterner figures in the history of Richmond, have returned from mountainside and seastrand, wearied with an endless round of pleasure. The ball-room of the White Sulphur, the cafe of the Hygeia, the casino of Naragansett Pier—they are now but memories of a nummer that is past. And with the homecoming of our lovely women the old town wears a new guise, as if to give them welcome.

TERRESICHOUR AWAKENS.

TRESIGNOR AWAKENS.

The goddess Terpsichore is about to awaken; her eyelids redden with light; she throws from her the summer grasses that whilem have covered her and gives the signal to the mellow strings. ## BEAUTIFUL MAY HANDY.

There is one woman who should have a There is one woman who should have a chapter to herself, for her beauty is as familiar to New York and Boston as to our own city. At Narragansett Pier last summer she was the one woman around whom all men gathered, and among all the lovely women from twenty States who idled away the summer at that delightful beach she reigned a queen. But these were strangers to her and only admired her for her beauty, while in Richmond Miss May Handy is loved for her sweet manner and her honest heart as well as for her lovely face. There are in Richmond many girls who

There are in Richmond many girls who would attract attention in any assembly, however brilliant, and, in fact, when one thinks of it, they must feel that this is the city of beautiful women. Miss Lucy Blair, an exquisite branette, with a face of classic mould and a complexion like Parian marble; Miss Virgie Cadot, a slender, graceful blonde, with a magnificent head of roiden hair; Miss Nettie Potts, Miss Virgie Brock, Miss Bessie Martin, Miss Brennan, Miss Evie Walker—what a rare "rosegarden of girls"!

These and others like them will be the belles of the winter, and ball-room and reception will be all the more beautiful for their presence.

debutants will also be a winter of young matrons. This week there will be several marriages among society people, and each week of October and November will furnish surprises of this kind.

Miss Nannie Gordon Scott will be married to Rev. Archibald Alexander Little next Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The marriage will be solemnized at the Second Presbyterian church by the venerable Dr. Hoge, and will be a beautiful ceremony. Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. John P. Scott, of south Third street, and the groom is the paster of the Presbyterian church at Gordonsville. Miss Fortune Scott, sister of the bride, will be the maid of honor, and Mr. Willie Little, brother of the groom, will be best man. The ushers will be Messrs. Hampden Hogue, Beverley Randolph, Josiah Vaughan, Julien Price, Daniel Brodnax, James Scott, Jr., Pichegru Woolfolk, W. F. Chalmers, E. B. Frayser, and Colonel M. L. Spotswood.

After the coremony the bridal party will be tendered a reception at the residence of the bride's father, and Mr. Louis Rawlings, who married Miss Jellis Scott, will offer the wedding company the same courtesy the evening before the nuptials.

There will be another wedding Tuesday afternoon. The contracting parties are Miss Fannie Baughman, a daughter of Mr. G. H. Baughman, and Mr. Penny Boatwright, of Wilmington, N. C. The marriage will take place at the residence of the bride's father, corner of Fourth and Byrd streets. The Sea King, the Water Queen, Frederick Warde and Mrs. Bowers.

The William J. Gilmore Opera Company, which is to present Stahl's new production "The Sea King" at the Theatre to-morrow night, has achieved success in New York and Philadelphia and includes in its ranks the names of many well-known comic opera favorites. The new work which they are to present is according to indicious observers a favorable specimen of the intent of the native composer. Its subject, which deals with an old Spanish legend of the thirteenth century, is not only picturesque and interesting, but has been so treated as to afford an amount of the later of the property of the content of the property of the content of the property of the content of the native composer. The mounting includes picturesque scenery and artistic costumes. The designing of these was placed in the hands of Faron de Grimm, the cleverness of whose ideas can readily be imagined by those who have watched his work in the past years. The opera will have the assistance of a carefully-selected company. The cast is an excellent one and there is a chorus of over thirty. The legions of admirers of the spectacu-lar will be attracted to the Academy of Music to-morrow night to witness the first performance here of Kiralfy's latest spectacle, "The Water Queen," which comes fresh from its triumphs at Niblo's-Garden Theatre, New York. It is peculiar in its construction, resembling the pantomine so popular in London at Christmas time. Its purity and unobjectionable nature especially commends it to the ladies and children. The final transformation, depicting the four seasons, is a masterpiece of scenic art, with its elaborate and dazzling changes and its beautiful allegorical tableaux. The dresses are said to be exquisite, many of them having been imported. Three grand ballets will be given by a large force of trained dancers. New gymnestic feats will be excented by the Dare Brothers from the Hippodrome, Paris, and the Brothers Warshaner, from the Alhambra, London, will introduce a host of popular songs and dances. Mr. Bolossy Kiraliy will personally superintend the entire production. A special Tuesday matines will be given, and the engagement of "The Water Queen" will close Tuesday night.

FREDERICK WARDS AND MES. BOWERS.

PREDREICK WARDS AND MRS. BOWERS.

Frederick Wards comes to Richmond this season with a company which in point of numbers and artistic reputation far surpasses any he has ever brought here. He has for a co-star Mrs. D. P. Bowers, who is one of the few artistes of first rank produced by America. She has long held first place in certain rôles as the tragic queen of the stage, and Clara Morris has said in print, "That although she has ever had a great desire to play Lady Audley she will never essay the rôle while Mrs. Bowers remains on the boards, for she fears comparison." Mr. Warde has in his company for support Charles D. Herman, Beverly W. Turner, Harry Leighton, Percy Sage, Robert Benedict, Robert Lee Tanner, Charles Clark, Catherine Coggswell, Mrs. Annie Sutton, and many others. A chorus and minuet dancers are also utilized. New and expensive costumes for all the plays are promised. The engagement is for four nights and a Saturday matinee, and begins Wednesday, October 18th, at the Academy. "Galba the Gladator" is the opening play. Thursday, Shakspeare's Othello; Friday, Henry VIII. (which has not been seen here in recent years); Saturday matinee, virginius, and Saturday matinee, and begins the Circuit Court, was present for a short while, but no cases of public concern were brought to his attention.

The County Court meets on Monday, but so far as can be seen there will be very little business before it. There has been no grand jury summoned, but it is likely that Judge Minor will order a special one to investigate the case of Tom Sully, charged with the murder of young Rosdeitcher's Cally was the first of four persons arrested in this case, and after being in juil for about two months was released on bail at the last term of the court. It was pretty generally conceded then that the Commonwealth's case has not been strengthened since then.

Mr. Harris Jacobs vesterday requested the Disputch to state that he will give $250 in addition to the $100 reward offered by the Governor for the arrest and conviction of the person who murdered the young peare's popular play Macbeth. Warde has always been a favorite in Richmond and will have good hoxees this trip, as he has ever had heretofore.

When asked to give his opinion of the Comte de Paris as a soldier he refused positively, saving that nothing could possibly induce him to do so.

The reporter remarked that there had been much talk in some quarters about the action of the Count, who came from Europe to fight against the South for fun, so to speak, in visiting the capital city of the late Confederacy.

The General replied that this is a free country, and people are at liberty to go

DID YOU EVER WEAR

Some people think that $10 can't buy a nice, decent garment. Well, this may be the truth as far as it alludes to other dealers, but certainly is a mistaken idea as far as we are concerned. The above sale proves this conclusively. Why, the best dressed, most fastidious, and particular man can wear with pride and satisfaction any one of these $10 Fall Suits or Overcoats. And here's the secret of it: While the qualities are not, of course, as fine as in the more expensive grade of goods, THE MAKE, STYLE, and FTF is JUST THE SAME. That's the reason why so many gentiemen prefer our $10 garments to those for which other dealers ask $14 and $15. In quality ours are fully as good, their style is superior, their prices about one third lower.

The Mechanic will find at this $10 sale good, durable, The Business-Man
